

Australian Conference on Neurodevelopmental Disorder September 2023 Walking Side By Side

Our third conference will continue to present a positive view of neurodiversity, with an emphasis on building strengths. Our intention is to foster interdependence by combining professional expertise across education and health with insights from lived experience.

Who are we?

In 2019, on 19-21st September, the first Tasmania-based Neurodevelopmental Conference offered the opportunity to expand networks across multiple disciplines, bringing a world expert in ADHD to Australia for the first time in 20 years.

Our second conference, held in September 2021 as a hybrid event, grew our reach and established this event on the professional calendar. The founding committee continue in their commitment to provide a high-quality program in 2023.

In 2022 the committee have established a governance relationship with Door Of Hope Christian Church, who have partnered with the committee for past conferences to provide financial oversight and insurance protection.

Opportunities to get involved

Sponsorship provides you with an unparalleled opportunity to engage with a range of interested conference participants including allied health professionals and medical clinicians, educators, parents/carers and those with lived experience.

Our goal is to create meaningful partnerships with suitable and willing sponsors ensuring they are a strategic fit with our audience. Join our past sponsors; UTas, Launceston City Council, Tas Health, ADHD Support Groups, Launceston Conference Centre, Green Hat Tourism, Hope Discovery Family Centre and Windsor Psychology by aligning with ACND 2021.
